W-4 AM	Building Oral and Written Proficiency: Improving Instruction and Assessment – Laura Buder	This workshop will help world language teachers improve their students' proficiency and assess them in a way that encourages student ownership, confidence, and risk- taking. You will learn practical tips for adapting instruction and assessment in oral and written proficiency, methods for making your assessments and rubrics focus on proficiency, and how to use standards-based grading to support student growth. Participants may wish to have a unit and or an assessment in mind to work on improving.	Sponsor: AWLA Core Practice: Provide Appropriate Feedback Strand: Standards-Based Instructional Design Applicable Levels: All Applicable Languages: All Presentation In: English
W-5 AM	Methods of Mass Instruction: Making the Most of Planning, Routines, and Structure – Meredith White	Participants will be charged to reflect on the structure, routines, and high-leverage habits that make their class a memorable experience for students rather than just memorized content. In the context of large, diverse classes, the presenter will share the ACTFL Six Core Practice hacks that make can-do and proficiency-based language teaching enjoyable and effective. Participants will receive all files used and then, in turn, work to create their own versions to fit their own needs. 		PM Workshops 1:00 PM – 4:00 PM
W-6 PM	Making Space for Languages: Maker Spaces for Language Learning – Patricia Nolde and Amanda Romjue	Why should STEM labs have all the fun toys? Bring your questions and ideas to this discussion of how language classrooms and centers can include maker tools and spark creative projects for language learners. Workshop leaders will bring some examples of low-tech tools and projects with low entry costs to get your students thinking and creating in the target language. We'll discuss maker culture as it relates to learning, providing hands-on activities and immediate take-aways for classroom use.
